ABOUT THE FESTIVAL

This July, as they have for more than twenty-nine years, artists in and around the historic arts communities of Franklin and Treadwell will open their studios, homes, and galleries for the Stagecoach Run Art Festival. The self-guided tour welcomes visitors from all over the state and the country to wander the hills of western Delaware County and enjoy some of the best art to be found in the Catskills.

This year’s lineup includes more than 40 participating artists spread across 21 locations, the majority of which are located along the former “Catskill Turnpike” stagecoach road. As you tour the area, you’ll find numbered signs at each location, matching the numbers on the brochure map.

The two day Festival’s mission is to forge and strengthen relationships between creatives and their neighbors while simultaneously demonstrating the financial and cultural value that artists add to a community. As the Western Catskills has seen a huge influx of newcomers since the pandemic, that mission seems even more relevant and important.

This year’s event will be July 11 and 12. Stagecoach is a self-guided tour and entirely free to the public. Many of its visitors begin their journey at the Bright Hill Literary Center in Treadwell, where a salon-style exhibition of all participating artists works can be found. The Bright Hill exhibit will open on Saturday, June 20 and run through Sunday, July 12 and can prove especially helpful for visitors trying to plan their time at the Festival.
